Inteck offers IT Outsourcing Services to Community Hospitals

DENVER, COLORADO, December 15, 2005. Inteck, an information technology (IT) consulting firm for the healthcare industry offers IT staff outsourcing services. Many healthcare organizations are realizing that IT is becoming much more complex with new initiatives such as clinical system integration, patient safety, EMR's, and RHIO's. Acquiring, retaining and managing qualified IT personnel is increasingly difficult and surprisingly expensive. Inteck can step in to provide the necessary skill sets required for your organization to implement new technology and operate efficiently and effectively. With Inteck's partnering programs to share the risks, they offer a compelling solution to the challenge of acquiring and retaining qualified IT experts for your organization.

"Partnering with a firm that specializes in community hospital IT enables the healthcare organization to focus on its primary concern: providing high-quality healthcare to its patients and clients," notes Don Jacobs, Inteck's President. Inteck's services provide the talent and expertise an organization needs to ensure it has the right information technology expertise to administer its programs and achieve its healthcare goals.

Inteck can provide partial or full staff outsourcing for:

- Department Management
- Technical Information Systems (IS) Management
- Network Management & Support
- Help Desk Management
- System Implementation
- Project Management
- Application Support
